Surgery can't cope with more patients

HEALTH bosses in Honiton say the town's surgery is at capacity and may not be able to cope with an influx of new patients if proposals for a major housing development are approved.

Last week, planning chiefs at East Devon District Council finally reached a decision on controversial plans for 300 new homes to be built on land west of Hayne Lane on the edge of Honiton.

Members of the council's planning inspections committee voted narrowly in favour of the plans, but the decision will be reviewed by Eric Pickles MP – the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government – before the proposals are finally signed off.

Ahead of the meeting on Friday however, partners at Honiton surgery wrote to the council to make clear their serious concerns about healthcare provision in the town.

And the surgery's practice manager Sandy Wason

by Jack Dixon

also attended the meeting to stress the point in person.

She said: "The surgery continues to absorb more patients coming in and we are working at capacity.

Quotes of the week...

“THE scheme has yet to go to planning but we feel that there is a need in the area for this type of regeneration and the renewed vitality that a gym will bring. Although this is a proposal we are already working closely with LED and, as the preferred lead tenant, the main parts of this design should remain similar for the planning application”

IAN Styles, managing director of Axminster Tools & Machinery, on plans, jointly with East Devon Leisure, to develop The Grove nightclub site in Seaton with a gymnasium, dance studio and town houses.

“THE surgery continues to absorb more patients coming in and we are working at capacity. We recently had a redevelopment of the surgery (to accommodate more patients) but I have been amazed at how quickly we are working at capacity again. With the build that may happen (the planned new homes) the partners feel it is going to go beyond capacity”

PRACTICE Manager Sandy Wason on the difficulty of dealing with more new patients at the Honiton Surgery caused by large scale housing developments in the area.

Triples winners

SEATON Bowls Club members Maria Johnson (lead), Pat Whitworth (number 2) and Di Morley (skip) travelled to Newton Abbott to contest the final of the Devon Benevolent Triples against a team from South Molton.

After a slow start, 5-1 down after six ends, the Seaton triple, gradually came back at the opposition. They went in to the last end leading by eight shots, setting the South Molton team the daunting task of needing a hot-shot of nine to win.

Dropping just two shots on the final end they eventually won by 17 shots to 11 to take the title in style.

AXMINSTER Friends offer £300k to keep hospital beds

AXMINSTER Hospital League of Friends will offer the NHS £300,000 over three years to keep the in-patient beds at Axminster Hospital.

The sensational proposal was announced during the public forum of Axminster Town Council following an urgent extraordinary meeting of the League of Friends late yesterday (Monday) afternoon.

The League of Friends fear that NHS Northern Eastern and Western Devon Clinical Commissioning Group (NEW CCG) will close the current 10 in-patient beds to save money.

NEW CCG has not made a formal announcement, but the League of Friends were so worried they called the urgent extraordinary meeting before speaking during public forum at Axminster Town Council.

Dr James Vann retired from 'active duty' at Axminster Medical Practice earlier this year, but is still employed and has spent the last few months trying to find a solution to the hospital issue.

He told the town council that he had received information that NEW CCG will propose next week to close in-patient beds at Axminster Hospital.

As a result, there is a serious fear that clinics and day case surgery would gradually follow suit, with the hospital eventually closing down altogether.

Dr Vann said: "I'm concerned that if we lose the beds, it is the start of a slippery slope."

During its urgent extraordinary meeting, the League of Friends, who have pumped millions of pounds into the hospital over the years, agreed to make an offer to support Axminster Hospital with up to £100,000 per year for three years on condition that the in-patient beds remain and that the majority of patients are local.

A letter in which the offer will be made will be written and sent this week.

Speculation has been rife in recent months over the future of the community hospitals in East Devon but this newspaper understands that only Axminster is earmarked for the complete withdrawal of in-patient beds.

From the editor's chair Stand by for bad news on the hospital

I STARTED my journalistic career in Honiton in a dingy room above Arthur Dimond's shop in the High Street. That was 50 years ago this summer.

Even in those far-off days when reporters attended virtually every local event, it was clear that Honiton was in desperate need of a community hall.

The Makarress Hall, at the side of St Paul's Church and opposite the office, was the only real meeting place in the centre of town in those days. And it continued that way until fairly recently when the magnificent Beehive Centre opened its doors amid much controversy.

I use the word "magnificent" somewhat gingerly because the building of the centre has been the cause of much falling out in the town.

I made a long-overdue visit to the Beehive last week after receiving an invitation from the group of volunteers who are working so hard to make the centre a success, led by former Honiton mayor Vernon Whitlock, who has been fighting for such a facility for 30 years.

The first thing that impressed me was the enthusiasm of the volunteers. It's turned out to be pretty much of a full-time job since the doors first opened in March and there's been no let-up since.

I was even more impressed when I was given a tour of the building, which also houses offices for Honiton Town Council. There are many other towns in Pulman's Country who would give their eye-teeth for such a quality facility.

I was surprised that when a local poll was held to give the people of Honiton the chance to vote on whether they wanted the town council to proceed with the community centre project, the majority said "no". However, there was only a 13 per cent turn-out, hardly representative.

I hear another poll might be in the offing over the future governance of the centre.

It's a very long time since I covered Honiton Town Council and I'm clearly not qualified to comment on the conflicting views. But what I do know is this: Honiton has a brilliant facility and it is clear by the programme of events that it is being well used by the community.

Becoming a charity seems an eminently sensible idea to me and I hope that it won't be long before those responsible for running the facility, town councillors and volunteers, can resolve their differences and draw a line under the animosity that clearly exists.

The Beehive is a great asset to Honiton.

SEATON Confirmation of plans for the Grove

A PLAN to turn a Seaton nightclub into a housing, office, retail and gym complex has been confirmed.

The plan to convert The Grove was leaked by district councillors Jim Knight and Peter Burrows earlier this summer, and appeared on the latter's website.

Those involved, however, kept a lid on their plans and did not comment at the time.

But Axminster Tools & Machinery has now confirmed that it is working with LED Leisure (which manages East Devon District Council's sport and leisure centres) to find land and construct gyms throughout East Devon.

The plan is to replace The Grove with a 'purpose-made gym to suit the modern needs of a wide age range within the local population'.

There will be space on the ground floor for two retail units in the centre of the town with good car parking facilities nearby.

The top floor will be 'high quality office'-space with sea views and a roof terrace.

The scheme will also provide five new houses.

Axminster Tools & Machinery MD Ian Styles said: "The scheme has yet to go to planning but we feel that there is a need in the area for this type of regeneration and the renewed vitality that a gym will bring."

"Although this is a proposal we are already working closely with LED and, as the preferred lead tenant, the main parts of this design should remain similar for the planning application."

HONITON Surgery can't cope with more patients

HEALTH bosses in Honiton say the town's surgery is at capacity and may not be able to cope with an influx of new patients if proposals for a major housing development are approved.

Last week, planning chiefs at East Devon District Council finally reached a decision on controversial plans for 300 new homes to be built on land west of Hayne Lane on the edge of Honiton.

Members of the council's planning inspections committee voted narrowly in favour of the plans, but the decision will be reviewed by Eric Pickles MP – the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government – before the proposals are finally signed off.

Ahead of the meeting on Friday however, partners at Honiton surgery wrote to the council to make clear their serious concerns about healthcare provision in the town.

And the surgery's practice manager Sandy Wason also attended the meeting to stress the point in person.

She said: "The surgery continues to absorb more patients coming in and we are working at capacity."

Correspondence from the surgery read out at the meeting indicated that more than 16,000 patients were already being cared for."

I AM writing this column on Monday afternoon, a few hours before there is going to be a momentous announcement over the future of Axminster Hospital. It will not be good news.

This is such an important issue that we have decided to delay the printing of our Axminster edition so we can report on the announcement due to be made at Axminster Town Council this evening (Monday).

It looks like Axminster has lost the fight to retain NHS funded in-patient beds, the only community hospital in East Devon to do so.

Over the years Axminster Hospital League of Friends have pumped millions into the hospital and it looks as though if the town is to keep its in-patient beds the League will have to dig deep once again. They have the financial resources but without their backing the beds will almost certainly go.

Local doctors fear if the beds are closed it is unlikely they will ever be restored. If that is the case, what will happen to hospital long term?

Although the NHS will never admit to it, it seems that closure is a very real possibility in the future. The NHS says there are no plans to close Axminster; not now but what about in three years?

OTTERY St MARY Work on factory site to start soon

LONG-AWAITED building work on the site of the former Ottermill Switchgear factory could get underway by the end of this month following the completion of lengthy negotiations, councillors have reported.

Planning permission was granted more than a year ago for developer Churchill Property South West to build on the old factory site, but the process has since stalled due to complex funding issues.

Plans for 100 new homes and the conversion of the Old Mill itself into an apartment block were approved, before being hit by delays.

Negotiations between the developer and East Devon District Council – the planning authority – reached a successful conclusion back in May.

But over the summer both parties have been thrashing out the final terms of section 106 agreements – key documents that set out financial contributions Churchill will make to ensure the community can sustain the development.

The process was complicated further by the nature of the proposed build, which includes multiple developments of different types.

At a recent meeting, Mayor Glyn Dobson gave assurances that the agreement would be finalised by the middle of September.

Police issue appeal for shoplifting couple

by Jack Dixon

jack@pemedial.co.uk

POLICE are on the hunt for a pair of shoplifters who stole a number of high-value cosmetic items from a Honiton drugstore, before committing a spate of similar offences across Devon.

Officers investigating the string of incidents, which also cover Exmouth, Newton Abbot and Plymouth, have issued images of two suspects they are trying to identify in relation to the crime wave.

Police believe the couple, a man and a woman, pictured below left, worked together to orchestrate the burglaries, which have amounted to thousands of pounds worth of stolen goods.

The pair first visited the Boots store in Honiton during October last year, where they made off with a number of expensive cosmetic items.

They then repeated the trick, returning in November to snatch a further load of goods.

Between March and June this year, a series of similar offences have been recorded by police, at the Greenhill Retail Park in Newton Abbot, the Magnolia shopping centre in Exmouth and the Dingles store in Plymouth city centre.

Police estimate that around £400 to £500 of goods was stolen on each occasion.

A spokesperson for the force explained how the pair of shoplifters have been working together to swipe the expensive items: "On each occasion they act together, with the woman initially entering the store, selecting high-value cosmetics and electrical items which she places in a basket.

"Her male accomplice then enters the store a short time later, pushing an empty push chair.

"The items are then placed in the push chair and the man leaves. The woman then abandons the basket and then leaves, not purchasing anything."

The female suspect is described as being aged between 30 and 40, around five feet and six inches in height, with dark hair in a pony tail, wearing black and white glasses.

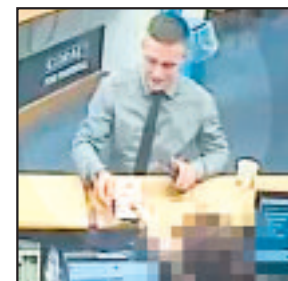

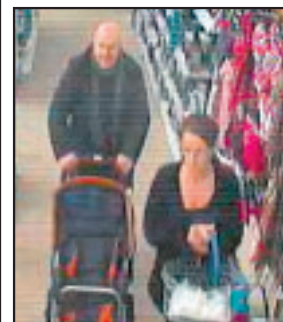

Police believe the man is of similar age and height, bald-headed with a "chubby" build, and is likely to be seen with a dark-coloured push chair with orange detailing around the chair and hood.

The police spokesperson added: "Anyone who recognises either of these persons or has any information regarding the thefts is asked to contact police on 101, quoting reference CR/67065/14 or call Crimestoppers on 0800 555111."

● POLICE have also issued a CCTV image of a man, pictured below, they wish to talk to in connection with a separate incident in a Honiton betting shop.

It is alleged that the man used a £50 note that proved to be counterfeit, when visiting the Coral bookmakers in Honiton on June 6th.

The investigating officer is PC Jon Stephens and the incident reference is CR/08006614.

at how quickly we are working at capacity again.

"With the build that may happen [the planned new homes] the partners feel it is going to go beyond capacity."

Correspondence from the surgery read out at the meeting indicated that more than 16,000 patients were already being cared for and that its ability to cope with a further rise had not been given due consideration.

It also suggested further restructuring of the surgery could cost around £750,000 and contributions should be sought from the developer to cover the expense.

But Mr Spiller said that previous meetings with the NHS Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG), which oversees the running of health services in East Devon, had indicated that no financial contributions would be needed.

He said: "Those are the correct people [the CCG] to seek that contribution. The request from the surgery does not justify why that money is required."

Developer Welbeck Strategic Land was represented by legal expert John Steele QC, who urged the committee to look at the "best" evidence, which he said came from the CCG, not the surgery.

He also said it would not be "right or proper within law" for a decision on the development to be changed without clear evidence.

Strong representations were again made by residents of Honiton and Gittisham, who argued that the site was in an unsustainable location, far from key facilities in the town centre. They also suggested Honiton's schools would be unable to cope with the influx of new pupils, and that the distance from amenities would necessitate travel by car, likely to create congestion problems along the single-track access lane to the site.

Despite further claims by the committee's own vice-chairman, Councillor David Key, that the plans would "ruin" the green area around Honiton and cause "out of this world" congestion at the Turk's Head junction, councillors were eventually minded to approve the application, subject to appropriate health service contributions being made by the developer.

The plans will now be reviewed by the Secretary of State before a final decision is reached.

Scooter stolen in Clapper Lane burglary

POLICE are appealing for information after reports that a mobility scooter was stolen from a garage off Clapper Lane.

Officers understand that a red ultralite 350/355 mobility scooter was taken from one of the wooden garages at some point on Thursday (August 28th).

Police say they are currently investigating the incident but urged anyone with information to call the non-emergency 101 number, quoting crime reference CR/102231/14.

Tesco stores refused license for staff gaming machines

APPLICATIONS to install gaming machines in Tesco staff canteens in Axminster, Seaton and Honiton branches have either failed or been withdrawn.

The applications were mentioned in agenda papers for East Devon District Council's (EDDC) Licensing & Enforcement Committee meeting on Wednesday, August 27th.

A sub-committee hearing was held to consider three applications for Club Gaming Machine permits for "staff social clubs" located at Tesco stores in Honiton, Seaton and Axminster.

If granted, each permit would have allowed up to three gaming machines in each staff canteen.

The applications were made by a gaming machine supplier who holds a machine supplier's operator's licence issued by the Gambling Commission.

The agenda report explained: "The hearing was adjourned to allow a sub-committee request to see evidence that a members' club existed for each of the stores."

By Anders Larsson
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

Councillors and officers visited the Axminster branch and the hearing reconvened on July 16th, the agenda report saying: "Having considered all material and representations, the sub-committee considered that the applicants at Honiton and Seaton were not members' clubs pursuant to S.266 of the Gambling Act 2005 and the applications relating to the stores at Honiton and Seaton were refused.

"The application relating to the Axminster store was adjourned at the request of the applicant's agent, Mr Richards.

"This was to enable the applicant to take instructions from the club on the continuance of the application.

"Mr Richards has since emailed a request for this application to be withdrawn."

Double celebration for Chardstock

CHARDSTOCK Parish Church and village primary school are both gearing up for celebrations.

Sunday, September 21st will see the 150th anniversary of the building of the current church, which will be marked by a celebration service in the evening. The Bishop of Crediton will be officiating and people associated with the church during its more recent history have been invited to attend.

Also at the same, time Chardstock C of E Primary School will also celebrate its 175th anniversary and this will be included in the service. A number of associated events will also take place. Staff and children will hold a Victorian Day in the school on Friday September 19th and hold an exhibition on the history of the village the following day. The exhibition will be open from 11am-5pm.

Also on Saturday September 20th, the church will offer guided tower tours from 11am-3pm.

The Sunday service will start at 6.30pm and organisers say parking could be difficult because of the number of people expected to attend.

Anyone wanting a lift is asked to express an interest by calling Graham Morgan on 01460 220600.

Chardstock Historical Record Group will stage an exhibition in the church, about the history of the church, during celebrations.

AFTER setting the task of losing weight as a New Year's resolution in 2012, Jon Borowik (pictured, before and after on his wedding day) joined his local Slimming World group.

Jon's main inspiration for losing weight came in the run up to his wedding and in those nine months Jon lost an amazing six stone.

Over the last couple of years Jon has – with the help and support of his fellow members – been learning to maintain his wonderful weight loss whilst enjoying life as a newly wed.

Jon is a keen traveller and only recently, whilst holidaying in Mexico, did he realise that the weight he has lost could equate to almost two people's baggage allowance on a plane – that's around the 40kg mark.

Jon says: "It's unbelievable that I was carrying that much weight around with me all the time, and now I have so much more energy!"

"I went in with a goal of losing a stone before Easter and had lost it within the first two weeks; this gave me real motivation."

Jon says that the secret of his success is down to the range of food he can still eat and lose weight.

He regularly enjoys fry ups, lasagne, steak and chips and even the odd takeaway.

Before losing weight Jon says that he always felt hungry and was constantly grazing on all the wrong things; now he eats large portions of healthy meals and doesn't feel as though he is restricting himself at all.

ADVERTISER'S ANNOUNCEMENT

New hubby loses excess baggage

Jon still attends the group weekly to share in the support and tempting recipe ideas of other slimmers.

"It's very social, with plenty of laughs and is always fun. What I loved about my first time in group was that I was made to feel very welcome, despite my concerns, especially as I was one of a few men in a female dominated group, and I was also relieved that my weight was never given out in group too. Following my weight loss there have been many more men join the groups in Sidmouth which is fantastic."

● Now Jon wants to share his success with others by opening his own group in Sidmouth.

The group begins on Thursday, September 25th at 7:30pm at St John's Hall, Blackmore Drive.

Please call Jon for any further information on Slimming World or the group on 07912 665129.

Road blocked

TRAFFIC came to a standstill in Honiton on Monday afternoon, after a trailer carrying a large number of hay bales tipped over on its side, partially blocking the roundabout between Sidmouth Road and Exeter Road.

At around 2:45pm, the trailer tipped over to the left as the vehicle exited the roundabout from High Street onto Sidmouth Road.

Police were alerted to the incident shortly afterwards and managed the traffic while the hay bales were cleared from the road and a nearby driveway.

There was no major damage to property and police were able to fully clear the road by 4:25pm.

The event takes place on Saturday, October 4th between 9am and 12:30pm, with the carnival queen is due to be crowned at 11am.

Carnival week itself kicks off on Sunday, October 19th with a quiz night at the Beehive, before the grand procession on Saturday, October 25th from 7:30pm.

Dance academy joins Beehive family

by Jack Dixon
jack@pemedial.co.uk

HONITON's Beehive centre is set to host expert dancers from around East Devon, as the range of community groups making use of the town's new facility continues to expand.

The East Devon Dance Academy has moved a number of its classes to the Beehive, after teachers and students gave the thumbs-up to the venue's facilities.

Starting this month, the dance school will be holding jazz, tap and ballet classes on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

And teachers at the academy say the centre is the perfect fit for their lessons.

Dance teacher Lucie-Grace Welsman, who runs the school with business partner Lynne Thorne, said: "We started using the Beehive for a handful of classes in January.

"The main hall is modern, light and airy, and the floor is great for dancing.

"Our students really liked it, so we decided to move even more of the classes there. It is very convenient and there is a café for parents who want to wait for their children."

The academy was set up in 1981 and under its current owners, who took on the business

■ Ballet students from the East Devon Dance Academy will be making use of facilities at the Beehive, as the centre's network of community groups continues to grow in 2007, the school has gone from strength to strength and now boasts almost 500 students.

In July, the Beehive played host to the dance school's annual awards evening – one of a number of special events to mark the venue's first summer open to the public.

And those behind the Beehive project say the appeal of the centre is growing by the day.

John Burgess, secretary of the Friends of the Beehive charity, said: "We are delighted that the East Devon Dance Academy is moving some more of its classes to Honiton and that more and more people are making use of the Beehive. We have just opened our first art exhibition and hopefully it will not be long before we are able to screen films in the main hall on a regular basis.

"It just goes to show that use of the centre is expanding all the time."

Lions boost for cystic fibrosis charity

MEMBERS of Honiton Lions Club have collaborated with a local business to provide a valuable cash boost for people across East Devon suffering with cystic fibrosis.

The Lions came together with staff from Honiton's Hybrid Gallery – winners of the club's annual duck race fundraiser last month – to donate hundreds of pounds to the gallery's chosen charity, the East Devon Cystic Fibrosis Quality of Life Trust.

The gallery's sponsored duck was first across the line in the Lions' corporate race at the Otter Inn, and members of The club presented a cheque for £300 to owner Tim Woolgar last week.

The party was joined by the trust's Liz Brown, who accepted the generous donation on behalf of the charity.

The money will be put towards the trust's new courtyard – designed especially for cystic fibrosis patients and their families – currently under construction at the Royal Devon & Exeter Hospital.

Mr Woolgar said: "I have a brother visiting from New Zealand whose children suffer from cystic fibrosis, so my personal connections to the trust, combined with their great work on the courtyard, made it an easy decision to make.

"The duck race is a great way of allowing local businesses to donate a small amount of money which all adds up."

local businesses which participated in this year's duck race and helped to make it one of the club's most successful.

Alongside the corporate race, around 1,400 tickets were sold for the annual derby's main event, and initial estimates suggest a total of £1,300 was raised for local causes.

Call to join 'dementia friendly' scheme

AN ARMY of local businesses and community organisations have given their backing to a unique initiative designed to transform Honiton into a 'dementia friendly' town.

A whole host of interested parties have already offered their support to the scheme, which aims to raise awareness of memory loss and related problems to help improve the lives of residents with dementia.

The model involves an 'alliance' of representatives from across the community, who will help to spread the word.

And those behind the scheme hope to assemble a team of 'dementia friends' who will be given special training to spot the signs of memory loss and assist other members of the public.

Leaders of the scheme won the backing of the town council and chamber of commerce in June, and have since approached local schools and the All Hallows Museum to seek their support.

They are now appealing for volunteers to come forward, whether as individuals or representatives of community groups, to contribute to the project.

Dementia Friendly Community Champion, Heather Penwarden, said: "One in three people will know someone that suffers with memory loss, and our idea is to create a dementia friendly community where someone that is living with dementia can carry on feeling like a part of their community."

"That needs the active involvement of the community itself.

by Jack Dixon

"We are holding a meeting in October where we hope to set up a steering group to lead the project, and we will soon be in a position to go onto the next stage."

The illness is thought to cost the UK economy around £23 billion a year, and at least 200 people in Honiton are believed to be suffering with symptoms of memory loss.

The process of transforming Honiton into a dementia friendly town could take between 12 and 18 months, including a dementia awareness day and a public campaign to improve understanding.

Mrs Penwarden added: "Working closely with Honiton Memory Café, we already have sessions planned at Honiton Community College, and there are lots of other projects lined up to get people of all ages and walks of life thinking about dementia."

For more information about the scheme, contact Mrs Penwarden by email at penwarden@btinternet.com

PERFECT PINT: Real ale enthusiasts in Honiton can now claim to quench their thirsts with the perfect pint, after a local brewer's bitter was named the best in the South West.

The Otter Brewery's 'Otter Amber' ale was selected by expert judges as the region's 'Champion Bitter' – the latest accolade bestowed on the award-winning Luppitt-based company.

Industry professionals were joined by landlords and members of the Campaign for Real Ale (CAMRA) at the Cheltenham Beer Festival recently to sample a selection of the region's finest pints.

And CAMRA's Alan Cottey (right) arrived in East Devon last week to present a framed certificate to the brewery's marketing director Patrick McCaig (left) and head brewer Keith Bennett, after 'Otter Amber' was named above all others as the region's outstanding beer.

The top honour follows the brewery's recent recognition from the Devon Environmental Business Awards for its efforts to become more eco-friendly.

Beer homes project wins award

THE Beer Community Land Trust and its leader Geoff Pook have been recognised in the annual Devon Rural Housing Awards.

The project, which was set up at the start of last year to provide seven affordable homes for local people in the village, was awarded a Highly Commended Award in the Outstanding Community Contribution category.

"I am very pleased and it is nice recognition," said Mr Pook.

"The Beer scheme has developed very quickly and efficiently and

by Kevin Fahey

used innovative funding via loans from East Devon District Council."

The Devon Rural Housing Awards are an annual community award and were initiated in recognition that the most successful affordable rural housing projects are driven by a particularly committed individual or community group that refused to give up despite the difficulties faced.

"The award seeks to acknowledge and celebrate such commitment regardless of whether the end goal of affordable houses has been achieved," said Sue Southwell, Rural Housing Enabler at Devon County Council.

"We hope to use these examples to inspire others. You certainly deserve this award and I am delighted that your hard work and dedication was recognised by the judges."

Councillor Pook, who represents Beer and Branscombe on East Devon District Council and also sits on Beer Parish Council, made the provision of affordable homes one of his top priorities after joining EDDC and was instrumental in setting up the Beer CLT.

The CLT was granted a £1million loan from EDDC plus £259,000 in grants from the Homes and Communities Agency. The £200 prize money for the above award will be allocated to developing a website to promote the work of the CLT.

Tenants for the new homes are due to be allocated by the end of November and the new homes are due to be completed by the end of the year.

The judges for the award were Devon County Councillor Barry Parsons, Matthew Dodd (Rural and Communities Manager at the Homes and Communities Agency) and Dr Richard Yarwood (Faculty of Science and Technology, University of Plymouth).

Beach thefts prompts CCTV talk

BEER Sailing Club is in talks with Beer Fishermen's Association about the installation of CCTV to improve security following a spate of thefts from boats on the beach during the summer.

The issue came to a head in August when a privately owned grey RIB was stolen along with a sea kayak, a fuel tank full with 50 litres from the club's patrol boat and a pump along with other items from another boat kept on Beer beach.

"We have looked at having a web cam but we don't think there would be enough detail from that," said Mike Ransom, who is Commodore of Beer Sailing Club.

"I heard that the Beer fishermen were looking at CCTV so I had a word with Jim Newton (chairman of Beer Fishermen's Association) and we have asked Paul Vine (local electrician) to give us a quote on what it would cost."

Ransom admitted that not even the installation of CCTV would guarantee that no further thefts would occur in the future but it is one measure that could only help to make the area more secure.

"Obviously CCTV cannot see around corners but it should be able to note cars coming and going down Sea Hill and take their registration plates so that should be a deterrent," added Ransom.

"I gather there are floodlights down on the beach as well but they are not working at the moment and I am not sure who is responsible for that."

That matter was reported to Beer Parish Council in their monthly meeting on Tuesday (Sept 2nd) and chairman Martin Richards confirmed the floodlights were the responsibility of East Devon District Council and they would be asked to get them repaired as soon as possible.

Youth club's history explored in new book

AN 89-year-old woman has written her first book and will sign copies of it this month.

Joan White's "Footprints In The Sands Of Time" gives an account of Colyton YMCA Youth Club and its formation, which took place in the George's Meeting House.

Married to Roy White, who was the leader for 27 years, Joan felt she was probably one of a few people with the knowledge and memory of its history.

The book gives glimpses into the lives of some of the ministers of the chapel, the people involved with the club and the changing lives of those who lived and still live there.

She said: "The people written about in this book have all walked before us on the streets, fields and buildings of Colyton and have shaped its life and are the threads of its history."

There will be a book signing at Colyton Heritage Centre on Thursday, September 18th from 10.30am to 12.30pm and all profits will go towards Colyton Parish History Society.

After the signing the book will also be on sale at The Little Shop in Colyton, The End Book Shop in Seaton and The Post Office in Beer.

New signs at allotments

COLYTON Parish Council and Colyton Allotment Association have agreed to split the cost of new wooden signs to help keep track of plots at the Mount Hill site.

It was agreed last week that both organisations would pay £50 each to the cost of pine signs with the plot numbers burnt into them, which would help the council keep track of which plot was which and who owned it.

Carnival fever grips Colyton!

■ CARNIVAL fever has once again gripped Colyton with events being held all week in the lead up to the carnival procession on Saturday night. Events started on Saturday with a coffee morning in the town hall organised by Colyton St John Ambulance (pictured above), followed in the afternoon by the crowning of the carnival royal party – princess Rose Dack, prince Alex McNiece and attendants Lizzie Emmott-Saunders and Sophie Bishop – by long-serving carnival committee member Irene Hill, who looks after the royal party each year (pictured right). Other events have included a car treasure hunt organised by the Nunsford Nutters Carnival Club on Sunday and a cake stall organised by Colyton Caterpillars Pre-School on Monday. Upcoming activities include a quiz night, bingo, whist drive concert with Ottery St Mary Silver Band, one-off production 'Showtime' by Colyton Theatre Group, art and craft show and the popular carnival market as well as the procession itself at 8pm on Saturday.

Council to apply for play area in chapel grounds despite district officer's advice

COLYTON parish councillors have agreed to go ahead with a planning application for a new play area in the grounds of St Michael's Chapel of Ease in Colyford, despite planning officers advising that they were unlikely to receive permission.

The chapel grounds has been identified as the only viable site for a play area in the village but after East Devon District Council's planning officers advised that permission was unlikely to be granted, due to the proximity of the listed building and being in a Conservation Area, parish councillors were unsure whether to push ahead with the project.

Colyton currently has £22,000 in Section 106 funds, donated by local developers, to spend on children's play facilities in the village but the money could be lost if it is not spent by next spring.

Proposals to build the play area, which would include wooden equipment for toddlers younger children and would be closed during services, split the views of village residents and church-goers but eventually permission was received from the Parochial Church Council for the parish council to take forward the plans.

After receiving the advice from planning officers the council put out an appeal for alternative sites and has spoken to private landowners but with no luck.

Other suggestions for a possible site have included the car park of Colyford Memorial Hall, although some members did not think was suitable, and an area at the far end of the car park at Colyton Grammar School.

Councillor Colin Pady, chairman of Colyton's Amenities Committee, reported last week that headteacher of the school, Paul Evans, had been in touch and said he could put forward the idea to the school governors and then to the Secretary of State for Education, but councillors were concerned this would not fit in with their tight timeframe and that the site was too far from the village centre.

Councillor Howard West, who is also Mayor of Colyton, suggested that they go ahead with the application at the chapel site, adding that they may receive planning permission as they had "exhausted all other possibilities".

Councillor Sheila Smith added: "Unless we go that far we will never know."

Councillor West hoped that if planning permission was received and the church gave the final go ahead for the project, they may be able to secure the funding even if the play area was not complete by spring 2015.

Library's future to be discussed next week

VOLUNTEERS from Colyton Library will next week receive results of a county-wide consultation about the future of libraries.

Results of the consultation are currently being analysed by Devon Library Service and the Friends of Colyton Library have been invited to discuss the outcome on September 15th.

The Friends have already made plans on how they would like the library to be run in the future, as more of a community-led project in the light of budget cuts being made at county level.

Following next week's meeting, formal recommendations about the future of Devon libraries will be put to the county's cabinet in October.

Speaking at last week's Colyton Parish Council meeting, Councillor Mark Mann, who represents the council on the Friends of the Library, said Colyton Library was being treated as a "flagship" facility by Devon County Council, as it was one of the first to come on board with the community-led approach.

The Friends of Colyton Library recently raised £1,325 at a well-attended talk with former MP Ann Widdecombe. This will be added to funds expected to be needed following negotiations with Devon Library Service.

Farway resident to trek coastal path for charity

A FARWAY man has set himself the challenge of walking all 630 miles of the South West Coast Path to raise funds for a charity that helps children in Guatemala.

Adam Burgess volunteered with the Phoenix Project in 2007 to 2008, where he taught children in a variety of subjects.

"I experienced first-hand what difference a little money and a lot of dedication can make to children living in poverty," he said.

The project gives an education to local children who would otherwise have no access to a school, and it has been so successful that some of the first groups of children through the system have begun teaching the next generation. Four hundred children are now benefitting from pre-school and primary education.

Adam continued: "The incredible work they're doing has left an indelible mark on me. I always intended to raise funds for them, and when I turned 40 this year I decided it was the perfect reason."

"I originally thought about running the London Marathon but the South West Coast Path presented itself as a challenge, and it's right on the doorstep. I managed to put aside a month to complete the walk."

Adam plans to walk about 20 miles each day, with a few rest days planned into his gruelling schedule. He hopes to be joined along the way by family and friends, one of whom was also a volunteer with the Phoenix Project.

"I'm camping each night, and although I'm looking forward to seeing the whole of this beautiful coastline, I'm aware that the weather is likely to be unpredictable," he added.

"So I've prepared myself mentally for some wet days and nights!"

Adam expects to finish his walk by the end of September. He has already raised £850 with Gift Aid taking the total closer to his target of £1,000.

Local author to release book on WWII resistance organisation

AN East Devon resident has penned a book about the Army's World War II resistance organisation, Auxiliary Units (AU).

The AU trained civilians as spies and saboteurs in threatened coastal areas of Britain.

Captain Hugh May, FRGS, Royal Navy, tells the story in "Chirnside 1", which will be formally released on Saturday, September 27th in Membury Village Hall from 11am to 1pm.

The book provides a detailed study on the underground wireless station at Bewley Down, Devon, and also tells the story of Douglas Ingram, who recruited and ran a spy network covering Axminster, Chard and Stockland while managing his smallholding.

Mr May was born in Edgbaston but spent most of his childhood in West Dorset. Educated at Salisbury Cathedral School and King's School, Bruton, he has travelled extensively over many years working in the Solomon Islands after leaving school before joining the Royal Navy in 1965.

Serving for the following 34 years he specialised in hydrographic surveying conducting surveys in the Indian ocean, Persian Gulf and Antarctica as well as around the UK.

His seagoing commands were HMS Beagle, HMS Roebuck and HMS Hecla when he took part in the first Gulf War in 1991.

A Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society, he has undertaken a number of expeditions including Greenland (Pearyland) in 1969 and the Royal Geographical Society expedition to Musandam (Oman) in 1971.

He retired in 1998, and now lives near Membury.

The book launch will include a 20-minute video presentation of the restoration of the dugout at Bewley Down.

PULMAN'S VIEW LETTERS

Dog ban has never been enforced

■ THE summer dog ban on Seaton beach is over from tonight. It has never been properly enforced on all the way to the yacht club.

One man has spent two weeks on holiday in Seaton and spent everyday on the beach along with his family and two black Labradors. He advised his friends to do the same, so they did.

Two young men have parked their van on the pavement and spent their dinner hours every day with their dog until, after two weeks, the traffic warden sent them away.

As I'm writing this letter, a family with their dog is leaving the beach, they've been there since lunch and it is now 6pm. They had cool boxes, etc. and bags of picnic food, how lucky can you be? They've never had it so good, what a fiasco!

Maybe next year we will have a dog warden who will find out that the beach continues beyond Fisherman's Gap towards the yacht club.

Pedallers head for Eype's Mouth

MEMBERS of Axe Valley Pedallers took on a challenging ride, which almost ended in disaster, on Sunday August 10th when heading for Eype's Mouth.

Four riders met at Seaton Tram Station and lined up with a further contingent at Axminster before ascending eastwards up Cooks Lane to Raymonds Hill.

Shortly after turning off to Shave Cross, en route to Bridport, the group was joined by Tim Shaw who had not only started his ride at dawn in the rain, already completing over 50 miles, but managed to locate the main group by following their tyre tracks on the damp roads.

AVP member Rob Watson said: "Eype is situated on the coast between Charmouth and West Bay and, after a short diversion to experience Eype's Mouth, the group hurried to a pre-arranged rendezvous at the excellent Down House Farm Café.

"After scones, cakes and generous sandwiches, the riders battled back up the hills which had provided such thrilling descents earlier and peddled their way out through Bridport on to Broadwindsor and Birdsmoorgate.

"All was proceeding well as the group neared Raymonds Hill and was approaching National Cycle Route NCN2 when suddenly, at the bottom of a descent into a deep remote valley, there was a loud bang like a pistol shot.

"Modern aluminium rims are softer than the steel ones of the past and gradually wear away under braking. This can cause catastrophic failure with the inner tube exploding and the rim peeling away, making a repair impossible.

"It was 'man down' and far from civilisation. However, no one was injured and rescue proved possible with the aid of Shaun Watkins' AVP van and a mobile phone and the group limped home in time for tea, wiser but undeterred."

Members growing old disgracefully at WI!

PRESIDENT Margaret Nicholson extended a warm welcome to members, three visitors and speaker, Val Sutherland, at the September Meeting of Colyford WI.

Mrs Sutherland proceeded to entertain and amuse the meeting with a very funny talk on Growing Old Disgracefully, which left the members laughing and with a lot to consider for the future.

Information was provided on the group meeting, the Devon Autumn Council Meeting in Barnstaple, Chatterbox in Colyton and Ladies that Lunch in Beer. Cakes were requested for the Goose Fair on Saturday September 27.

Visitors are very welcome to attend the meetings held on the first Wednesday of each month at 2.30pm in Colyford Memorial Hall. Further information may be obtained from Margaret on 01297 553247.

Garden club outing

THIRTY-ONE people enjoyed the Ottery St Mary Gardening Club trip to East Lambrook Manor and to Sheppey Cider Museum.

The gardens at Lambrook were a picture and members were welcomed by the owner who gave a brief history of the house and garden.

The Cider Museum was very interesting and after tastings many people brought back quantities of the cider to drink at home.

The next visit will be to Kingston Lacy and Knoll Gardens on Tuesday September 16th.

Art society social

AXMINSTER Art Society held their annual Summer Social at Musbury Village Hall. The event was well attended with members holding an art exhibition, each voting for their favourite exhibit. This was won by Michael Gilling with a coastal scene.

The next event will be on Wednesday, September 17th when David Beckers will demonstrate still life using oil techniques and mediums.

Yacht club is up for Bart's Bash

AN attempt on the world's largest sailing race will be made on Sunday 21st September 2014 in memory of Andrew "Bart" Simpson for the Andrew Simpson Sailing Foundation.

Axe Yacht Club is taking part in this race and the committee asks that everyone make a special effort to race on that day even if it is your only race in the season or sailing life. The aim is to get as many people on the water sailing in the same race all around the world within a 24 hour period.

The Axe will be holding two separate starts for the dinghies (morning) and cruisers (afternoon) and each race needs a minimum of 25 participants to make it count as part of the record. This is the number of people on the water as opposed to the number of boats so it is not necessary to have your own boat. Anybody who doesn't have a boat or who needs people to crew then please send an e-mail to aycresults@rdsailing.org.uk and they will try and match people together for the day. Even if you do not normally sail, why not try jumping onboard a yacht for the afternoon, as it will help get all the boats in the basin out racing.

For those taking part there will be a beach barbecue held over lunch to aid the recovery of the dinghy sailors and fuel up the cruisers for the afternoon race.

The day needs some volunteer helpers. With two starts it would be good to have some of the cruising hands to assist with the dinghies in the morning and vice versa in the afternoon.

All you need to do is to sign up on the Bart's Bash microsite for Axe Yacht Club at www.bartsbash.co.uk/club/axe-yacht-club

The club also needs independent adjudicators to spend a bit of time in the RHIB witnessing the course and performing a few other admin tasks on the day.

DURING one weekend Axe Yacht Club raised £900 for the RNLI. The funds came from the profits of a supper in the clubhouse on the Friday evening, the entry fees for a race by nine cruisers on the Saturday, followed by a buffet supper in the evening, a table top sale and stalls on the Sunday morning and a five cruiser race, culminating in a barbecue at lunch time.

A separate stall manned by Wendy Cummins and Christine Palaccio selling RNLI goods also gave a significant boost to their funds.

The club also supports the RNLI through subscriptions and donations throughout the year, several members being very grateful for the help provided by lifeboats in the past.

Club learns about the life of Brunel

ISAMBARD Kingdom Brunel was a complex individual whose life has received much discussion.

Brian Porch wisely restricted himself to his engineering skills in his talk to Axminster Probus Club at their September meeting.

Isambard's father, Marc, was French but had married Sophia Kingdom from Plymouth. Moving to America he was lured back to set up a system for the mechanical production of pulley blocks for the Navy – a system that lasted until 1965, an incredible 162 years.

Marc gave Isambard a wide education with an apprenticeship with a horologist, a period with a tool maker and the all-important engineering qualification in Paris.

Isambard and his father went on to build the first tunnel under the Thames though it was blighted by lack of finance and, when completed in 1843, had cost many lives. He was injured in the early stages of the tunnel and went to Bristol to recuperate where he put in a submission for a suspension bridge at Clifton. Finance was again a problem and though the towers were built in 1843 the bridge was not completed until 1864 and the designer did not live to see the longest suspension bridge in the world opened having died in 1859.

In 1843, at the age of 27, Isambard persuaded the Bristol city fathers that he was the right man to build a railway between London and Bristol. Personally surveying the whole of the route he became responsible for the construction of probably the best railway in the country. It was not without controversy – the Maidenhead bridge was predicted to fail and the Box tunnel cost 100 lives.

His genius was wide-ranging, resulting in the construction of the Tamar Royal Albert bridge in 1859 to a unique design.

His experiment with the atmospheric railway south of Exeter was a failure as he was in advance of the technology of the day.

While his extraordinary ability to design and build ships of advanced design has ensured his place in history they were not generally a commercial success.

This revered engineer, whom the West Country has adopted as its own, was hands-on, he got dirty and he drove himself to an untimely death. Arrogant in his self-belief he was usually right but not always so - in other words a very human man.

The Axminster Probus Club for retired and semi-retired business and professional men meets at the A35 Pit Stop, Gammons Hill, Kilmington on the first Tuesday of each month. For further information ring 01460 220528.

Probus search for lost regalia

UNTIL 2004 the Axminster area supported two Probus Clubs for retired and semi-retired business and professional men. The Axminster Club continues to flourish.

The Axe Vale Club, however, fell on hard times and was forced to close, some of its members transferring to the other club.

The current chairman, Don Harris, was amongst those who changed over and retains an archive of records and regalia in case it might be possible to reform the club.

Two items are missing from his collection – the chairman's collar and jewel and the gavel, both of which could be expensive to replace. Mr Harris wonders whether any former member of the Axe Vale Club, or a relative, might still be in possession of these 'relics' and be prepared to release them. If anyone can assist him in his quest, please contact him on 01297 32682 to arrange a meeting.

Axminster farmers take the ribbons at Melpash Show

■ DAVID and Joy Churchill of King's Farm, near Axminster, had a very successful Melpash Show. Their trophy haul included 1st place for their two lambs born in 2014 (up to 75kgs live weight per pair); 1st place and overall champion for their two lambs born in 2014 (over 75kgs live weight per pair); 1st place and champion for the best pair of lamb carcasses (under 36kgs per pair) and Overall Champion for best pair of lamb carcasses (over 36kgs per pair). They also won the Perpetual Challenge Cup for the best local pair of lamb carcasses. They entered eight sheep in total and all of them won prizes. Having taken part in the commercial sheep competitions at Melpash Show for the last four years, David Churchill said: "It is a challenge to win both classes and we never have before. We are very pleased with the outcome and very happy about it as we have never come away with four cups before. Norman's Butchers in Bridport wanted the meat from our sheep and rosettes to display in their window."

Shop collections raise almost £400

GENEROUS people of Axminster and Seaton raised a total of almost £400 for ABF The Soldiers' Charity during supermarket collections.

Axminster Tesco and Seaton Co-op hosted collections on Saturday, August 30th, with a total of £383.88 being raised.

ABF's Michael Goodliff said: "Together with the previous collections held in both towns, an overall total of £866 has been donated to the charity by the generosity of those visiting on the collection days.

"ABF The Soldiers' Charity is grateful for the generous donations."

The charity is the principal British Army charity and was formed in 1944 as the Army Benevolent Fund following the Second World War to provide welfare and financial support to serving soldiers, former soldiers and their families regardless of when or where they served.

"Since then the demands on the charity have been continuous with support being given to veterans of both world wars and all subsequent conflicts in which the Army has been involved.

The more recent operations in Iraq and Afghanistan have doubled the needs for help provided by the charity and last year grants of over £8million were made nationwide.

"The South West region alone needs to raise £300,000 a year to meet the current demands of both serving and former serving soldiers and their families in the region. The fundraising collections in Axminster and Seaton provide a vital contribution towards the total needed.

"The organisers thank all those who have given so generously to the charity, the stores where they were held and the Royal British Legion Seaton and Axminster branches and those who assisted with the collections."

Inaugural health exhibition at Guildhall

AXMINSTER Health & Wellbeing Centre is to hold its inaugural health exhibition on Saturday, September 13th.

Those attending Axminster Guildhall between 10am and 4pm will find ways to lead a "happier and healthier life", organisers say.

Entry is free, and centre manager Aynsley Jones said: "This event deals with a range of health conditions.

"We all understand that our health is very important but how many of us take the time to help ourselves with discovering more on how to improve our wellbeing?

"We all know someone who has had a long term health complaint, which they cope with from day to day, but never really seek the advice they need.

"If you suffer with, for example, pain, sleeplessness, muscle discomfort, dietary problems, depression, anxiety, skin disorders, or are generally feeling unwell - then this exhibition is a great way to learn more about managing your condition.

"If you are not suffering from any health conditions and would like to lead a healthier lifestyle, then pop along to see what we have on offer in our fitness section and health products.

"In these areas you can find a range of health foods, skin care, breathing specialists and fitness demos to whet your appetite.

"Many of the therapists will also be offering a range of taster sessions including: mind massage, 10-minute phobia release, various types of massage, reflexology, EFT, breathing techniques, chiropody, anxiety coping strategies, light therapy and much more.

"And for those sceptics out there, why not come along to this free event, ask as many questions as you like and then decide on whether this might be beneficial for you."

For further enquiries about the exhibition, phone 01297 32331 or visit Axminster Health & Wellbeing Centre in Chard Street Axminster or look online at www.axminsterwellbeing.com Organiser Gill Amos said: "This is a free fun day of activities for older people.

"There is a full programme of events, demonstrations and activities for people to come and try.

"Confirmed so far are sing popular songs with Silver Song Box - no experience needed, over 50s fun games, a demonstration of seated exercise, how to make healthy pizza with HALFF, a reminiscence table and craft activities.

"There are more activities still to confirm, so watch this space."

The Project to mark first anniversary

AXMINSTER-based charity The Project, which supports young people with mental health issues, will celebrate its first birthday on Saturday, September 13th.

Founder Debbie Humberstone said: "We are extremely proud of all we've achieved since we opened, and to mark the occasion, we are holding a celebration from 1pm to 4.30pm at Axminster Young People's Centre (Pippins).

"The afternoon offers something for everyone - live music, afternoon tea and raffle plus family fun - a bouncy castle, hairbraiding, nail painting, a basketball challenge, model making and face painting.

"There will also be a cake decorating competition, and we will be creating a large art installation with the help of the local community.

"There will also be an opportunity to find out more about The Project, and the work we do and to meet the staff and volunteers."

Community choir closes another successful season

MID-August brought the end to a lonh and extremely enjoyable concert season for Axe Valley Community Choir.

It was appropriate that the season finished with community signing at the Rousdon and Compyne First World War commemorations. Members agreed this was a delightful day, opening with a moving service of re-dedication at the Rousdon war memorial and ending in hot sunshine surrounded by many villagers and visitors enjoying sunshine and joining in with gusto to sing WWI songs.

The choir was delighted to support the village and the Royal British legion, which benefited from funds raised.

■ SEASON FINALE: Axe Valley Community Choir finished their season with songs at a First World War commemoration in Rousdon

THE Reverend Simon Crittall opens: "I was recently reading an article about atheism in contemporary Russia.

"In the latest polls, only about four per cent of the population still declared themselves to be atheists, whereas the proportion of religious believers is 60 per cent and still rising. Yet the proportion of regular worshippers is less than 10 per cent. "The author suggested that this was probably because before 1989 there were so few places of worship open that if people were to retain any faith at all it had to be without corporate participation. In England, the figures for believers and worshippers are much the same but going down. We have not had communist repression, but we have had its opposite, compulsory religion. The figures do not surprise me – repression fosters faith, compulsion destroys it.

"For many readers, thoughts and prayers this week will again probably be concerned about events in the Middle East and how they are affecting most people either directly or indirectly. As we continue to help and pray, it seems that headway is at last being made by the western powers but action appears very slow.

"Back in Devon high on prayers will be all those being ordained and beginning their ministry in mission at communities throughout the Exeter Diocese (and elsewhere across our land). Nineteen people will be ordained Deacon in our Diocese on Sunday, September 14th and a further 15 will be ordained as priests over weekend September 27th and 28th – our prayers go out to them all.

"There are many moves afoot to freshen up the continuous flow of magazines and journals which may interest church folk and we record, first, following the recent launch of Church of England Devon, which takes the place of the former monthly diocesan news. "So to name a few Building up the Church from the Additional Curates Society, next Transmission – the new name for the former USPG magazine, then the Intercontinental Society news and prayer diary featuring especially chaplains serving overseas, with the title ICS News and Prayer Diary. There follows The Server, being journal of the Guild of Servants of the Sanctuary, then the Journal of Sarum College, listing courses and events which should not be missed – those listed above make up one postal delivery one morning in East Devon! After perusal, they can all contribute to recycling."

So to local events – on September 14th at 2.30pm at St Andrew's, Colyton, Songs of Praise to end carnival week.

Brascombe holds its annual flower festival from September 19th to 22nd, to be followed on Sunday, September 21st at 11.15am with the harvest festival.

Pulman's View churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

St Andrew's in Colyton holds harvest on October 5th at 11am followed by refreshments.

Other local events at this time include music. If you have already booked to take part in this year's RSCM Festival at Plymouth, Saturday, October 18th is the date not to miss. If you have not yet booked, it's most certainly not too late and it is hoped very much that many will take part. There's a super set of music and we have the great combination of RSCM's director conducting the festival and our own Andrew Millington.

East Devon churches have a further World War One commemoration in early October, and Friday, October 3rd will be at Shute Church and Saturday, October 4th will be Stockland Church, both at 7.30pm with entry costing £5 and tickets available at Hurfords Stores, Kilmington. Profits go to We Will Stand for Those Who Fell.

The Reverend Simon Holiday will be licensed as Priest in Charge at the Five Alive Mission Community on September 29th at Stockland Church, 7.30pm. The next day, the Reverend Philip Butcher of Honiton Mission Community will preside at his first celebration of the Eucharist at St Paul's Church, Honiton, on September 30th, also 7.30pm. On both dates those attending are asked to say if they are robing.

For the parish church in Ottery St Mary, September sees the Coffee & Chat sessions on Tuesdays from 10am to 11.30am gaining in popularity. The Mothers' Union meet in the church on September 9th at 2.30pm. Parables & Praise Flower Festival is on for September 17th to 21st with coffees, light lunches and cream teas.

Devon Historic Churches Ride & Stride will be held in many churches on September 13th. Funds support work in churches of all denominations in Devon.

The Methodist church is collecting for the Christmas gift parcels and requires pencils, stationery and toiletries but they must not be wrapped because of customs scrutiny. The conditions in the Middle East continue to be of greatest concern and prayers are requested still this week for the church in the Middle East headed by Canon Andrew White and its work, and particularly the health of Canon Andrew. Anyone wishing to donate to the humanitarian needs can do so online at www.frmr.org or by cheque to the treasurer of the Diocese of Cyprus and the Gulf Foundation with a note saying "IRAQ".

The choir has supported several other charities this season, ranging through Moose International in Yeovil, Devon Wildlife Trust in Offwell, the new Beehive Community Centre in Honiton, as well as its own chosen charities for this year – Exeter Hospice Care and FORCE.

Members also enjoyed supporting local events, such as Dalwood Music Day and Seaton Town Hall entertainment evenings. All provided the choir with wonderful audiences, but none quite so enthusiastic as the audience crammed into the tiny Southleigh Village Hall, gathered to raise funds for village hall amenities.

Although the full choir numbers well over 60, the group prides itself on being able to provide any venue with groups as small as 15 right up to the full 60. This means that no venue or event is too small or too big, and the choir is always willing to join other entertainers in the area should a dramatic and exciting atmosphere be needed for a space almost the size of the Albert Hall.

The choir is now in its sixth year. It was created by a group of friends from Whitford and is lucky to have Edward Jacobs as its musical director. With Edward's range of musical experience and huge repertoire, the choir has the chance to try a wide variety of signing genre. He also arranges all the pieces especially for the group and brings in many musician friends to challenge members with new musical adventures.

The choir will be taking a break from concerts for a few months in the autumn while they experiment with new ideas and select new pieces to expand their repertoire. This is always an exciting time when the choir feels rejuvenated after the summer break, but it is looking forward to a new series of concerts usually starting with several seasonal events in the run up to Christmas.

The Axe Valley Community Choir will be reconvening on Friday, September 19th and would welcome anyone who wishes to come along to Whitford Village Hall for a taster session. All they ask is that you have a love of singing, a commitment to practices and rehearsals, and a desire to add something to community life.

Those interested in joining can call Christine Brown on 01297 552233 to fix a date to join a taster

GAS Safety Week is a national safety campaign to raise awareness of gas safety in the UK's 23 million gas fuelled homes. It is co-ordinated by Gas Safe Register with support from the gas industry including retailers, manufacturers, consumer bodies and the public.

Gas Safety Week 2014 will take place 15th-21st September 2014, with national advertising, media coverage and events throughout the week. Gas safety messages will reach far and wide right at the start of heating season.

Why get involved?

Be part of a national safety campaign, joining thousands of organisations across the UK to help people stay safe as well as raising the profile of your

Keep your home safe

BADLY fitted and poorly serviced gas cookers, fires and boilers can put you at risk from carbon monoxide poisoning, gas leaks, fires and explosions. Just like you get your car MOT every year, you should have your home gas safety checked every year by a Gas Safe registered engineer.

- ☒ Check your gas appliances every year
- ☒ Check your engineer is Gas Safe registered
- ☒ Check your engineer's Gas Safe ID card

Top tips to stay Gas Safe

We rely on our gas boilers, cookers and fires to keep warm, have hot baths and showers and cook hot meals. It's important that gas appliances are safety checked every year and regularly serviced to help keep us safe and prevent them from breaking down when we need them the most.

Stay Gas Safe in your home with these top tips:

1. Always use a Gas Safe registered engineer to fit, fix and service gas appliances in your home – it's the law and will help keep you safe.
2. Always ask to see an engineers Gas Safe Register ID card and check the back of the card to ensure they are qualified to carry out the specific type of gas work you need.
3. Have all your gas appliances, including boilers, gas cookers and gas fires, safety checked every year.
4. Find a Gas Safe registered engineer in your area or call the free helpline on 0800 408 5500
5. Unsafe gas appliances can put you at risk of carbon monoxide poisoning, gas leaks, fires and explosions. Recognise the symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning – headaches, dizziness, nausea, breathlessness, collapse and loss of consciousness.
6. Check gas appliances for warning signs that they are not working properly e.g. lazy yellow flames instead of crisp blue ones, black marks or stains on or around the appliance and too much condensation in the room.

7. Buy an audible carbon monoxide alarm for your home and make sure it is located near to your gas appliances in accordance with the manufacturer's guidance. Carbon monoxide can leak from appliances and kill.
8. Only use gas appliances for their intended purpose e.g. don't use a gas oven to heat a room or use a gas barbeque inside the house.
9. Always ensure there is enough ventilation for your gas appliances to allow them to burn correctly and make sure you are not blocking any air vents that provide an air supply to the gas appliance.
10. Anybody working with gas has to be Gas Safe registered by law. Report someone working without registration or call Gas Safe Register on the free phone number 0800 408 5500.

Broomgate Studio now open

ANNE and Kevin Townsend moved to Broomgate Cottage in Broom Lane, Tytherleigh (EX13 7AY) in 2013 and converted their garage into a purpose built Art Studio for Anne. This is a perfect place for her to work and showcase her Art, Ceramics and Prints.

Broomgate Studio, nestled in the picturesque Axe Valley is now open for all your Giclee, Photographic and Box Canvas printing needs. At the Studio we can print single images and larger amounts if required.

"The idea of offering our own Giclee, Photographic and Box Canvas printing service, evolved from wanting to produce my own Giclee prints and the ability to transfer my art onto various materials.

"We print from your original artwork, pre-scanned files and digital photographs onto Fine Art paper and Box Canvases, using the best quality Epsom ink and the results speak for themselves. Both the papers and the inks we use are archival quality and colours last for 70 to 80 years or more. Please telephone for further information.

"We are often working in the studio so please pop in if the 'For Open' sign is displayed and at other times you are Welcome by appointment"

For more details visit the website at www.broomgatestudio.co.uk or email: enquiries@broomgatestudio.co.uk.

An evening with Sunny Ormonde

THE well-known and much loved BBC Radio 4's The Archers is the longest running radio soap opera in the world; first broadcast in 1951 and stacking up a staggering 17,173 episodes (last recorded in 2013). Set in the fictional village of Ambrose, their storylines are renowned for being compellingly varied and diverse, including the wild adventures of Lilian Bellamy. Sunny has been playing the "outrageous and raunchy" Lilian Bellamy for the past 13 years and has become one of the listeners' most favourite characters. Her antics have kept the nation both gripped and entertained, whether it be drinking The Bull dry with Eddie Grundy, absconding to Costa Rica with her beloved and very wicked Tiger, or recklessly kicking off her sling-backs and leaping into bed with Tiger's brother Paul. Oh the repercussions!

Sunny Ormonde is heading to the Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis this Saturday, September 13th, for an evening of anecdotes, banter and favourite pieces from Sunny's long and distinguished acting career.

Whether you are an Archer's listener or not, expect a highly entertaining evening!

Tickets are £12 or £10 (concessions) - to book tickets, contact TIC on 01297 442138 or visit www.marinetheatre.com

Bovis Homes – Quality new homes and houses for sale

MORE than 100 visitors came through the doors when Bovis Homes opened its sales office and show homes at Cloakham Lawn in Axminster. "We were delighted with the turnout and have already taken reservations off-plan," said Bovis Homes South West marketing assistant Kate Brewer, who helped arrange the event. She added: "There was a very positive response to Cloakham Lawn, the opportunities it provides and the positive impact it will have on the town. "Events like these are an opportunity to speak to local people about the benefits of buying a brand new home – and those extras you get as standard if you decide to make it a Bovis Home, like fully integrated kitchen, recessed downlighting and built-in wardrobes. "People seemed particularly interested in our Home Exchange scheme and our sales team look like they will be kept busy for the rest of the year." Visitors were impressed with the bold interior design of The Southwold show home and feel, while the bay windows in The Sheringham view home brought 'ooohs' of approval! The event was supported by Shane Morgan from local estate agents Morgan York, and The River Cottage Canteen and Deli who supplied a beautiful hamper as a prize for a competition held over the weekend. With a selection of 3 and 4 bedroom homes being sold on the current phase of Cloakham Lawn, and other phases set to open next year, these new showhomes will give a real feel of what it will be like to live at Cloakham Lawn as this exciting new part of the Axminster community takes shape.

Divine DS: Capturing The Essence of the DS Brand

WITH more than 500,000 vehicles sold worldwide since the launch of DS 3 in 2010, DS is building on its success and is now a brand in its own right. Designed and created in Paris, the DIVINE DS concept is an expression of the brand's DNA and captures the very essence of DS.

UNIQUE STYLING CUES

DIVINE DS is a compact 4-door vehicle, 4.21m long and 1.98m wide. It is characterised by its powerful and charismatic styling, with taut lines and a low driving position (1.35m high). Strong, sensual curves contrast with graphic features sculpted in chrome. DIVINE DS features metallic grey bodywork with a subtle shimmer that accentuates its lines. The body style captivates the observer at first glance with bold styling cues that reflect the image of DS.

The wide, powerful front end features the 'DS Wings' signature that was first seen on DS 5LS. With DIVINE DS, this has been accentuated and is more upright for a heightened sense of prestige. In the centre, the radiator grille provides a stunning setting for the DS emblem. Floating diamond shapes, of different sizes and in varying shades of chrome, reflect light to give the radiator grille a 'spatial' effect.

Viewed from the side, the lines of DIVINE DS form a sharp sweep along the length of the car, with the first stroke of the designer's pen clearly visible. The dramatic waistline emerges as a circle around the rear lights and tapers away naturally at the front. Underlined by a chrome strip, this distinctive signature makes the whole body appear tauter and more dynamic. The chrome strip also cleverly conceals the door handles. On the lower side panels is a line of finely sculpted chrome, subtly highlighting the elegant body shape and bringing to mind the interior console design.

Another major styling highlight is the roof, which is truly unique with a design resembling the scales of a reptile. Playing on contrasts, these scales feature alternating effects – matt and satin, opaque and transparent – to play on the light inside and outside the car through changing reflections. The scale pattern extends over the rear window and can also be seen on the door mirrors. This forms a unique and enchanting display that contrasts with the sensual curves of the car's rear.

An avant-garde interior display

The cabin of DIVINE DS also features a spectacular display of contrasts, between the contours and relief of the driver's cockpit and the flowing lines of the passenger seat.

Spacious, Stylish and Packed With Technology

▲ Nissan Pulsar

NISSAN'S passion for innovation and technology has seen it transform the family car landscape over the course of the last seven years. Now, using the same design approach and original thinking that produced its range of crossovers, Nissan is expanding its product portfolio once again with an exciting, all-new family hatchback challenger – the Pulsar.

Combining bold design, technical innovations and class leading interior space, the all-new Nissan Pulsar brings a fresh dimension to the C-segment, offering all the familiar Nissan qualities in a stylish new package.

The Pulsar's introduction highlights Nissan's ambition and desire to deliver intelligent design and technical innovation to the widest possible audience. Designed to appeal to a broad range of buyers, from D-segment downsizers to family motorists who have outgrown their B-segment cars, the Pulsar showcases Nissan's design skills and introduces an array of in-car technologies – some of which are brand new to the sector. With exceptional material and build quality, the Pulsar offers buyers a premium ownership and driving experience without having to pay premium prices.

Instantly recognisable thanks to its trademark Nissan V-motion grille, boomerang signature headlamp characteristics and bold, muscular curves, the Pulsar was designed and engineered for Europe and will be built at Nissan's Barcelona production facility.

The Pulsar combines strong lines with outstanding detailing to create an elegant, athletic form.

The confident, premium approach continues inside, where high quality materials and clear design are perfectly integrated with Pulsar's impressively high equipment levels.

Thanks to the longest wheelbase in the class (2,700mm) and clever packaging, the Pulsar offers considerably more rear legroom and shoulder room than its sector rivals. Indeed, with 692mm of leg space – the Pulsar boasts more rear legroom than the average D-segment offering. Yet despite this, it retains a compact footprint (length 4,385mm), making it easy to park in tight urban environments.

As drivers have come to expect from Nissan, the new Pulsar is fitted with a range of accessible and technologies designed to make the ride feel more confident and comfortable. Nissan's reputation for introducing new-to-sector technologies has been strengthened with a wide number of features usually reserved for premium or luxury models.

These include Nissan's acclaimed Safety Shield system with Moving Object Detection, Lane Departure Warning and Blind Spot Warning. Nissan's revolutionary Around View Monitor brings even more advanced technology to the sector, as does the latest-generation NissanConnect system that offers seamless integration with smartphones and full satellite navigation functions.

As befits a car packed with new technology, the Pulsar launches with two highly advanced engines – a 1.2-litre DIG-T petrol unit and a 1.5-litre dCi diesel. Both offer exceptional performance, economy and refinement, and integrate a host of fuel-saving technologies to help owners go further for less.

The new Pulsar range features four familiar trim grades: Visia, Acenta, n-tec and Tekna – with all four offering exceptionally high levels of standard equipment. All models come with air conditioning, five-inch Advanced Drive-Assist Display, alloy wheels and electric windows all-round. Tyre Pressure Monitoring System, six airbags and Stop & Start system are also all fitted as standard across the range.

DESIGN AND PRACTICALITY

Striking, spacious and generously equipped, the new Pulsar combines the three qualities that define Nissan's approach to design. Using the same design language that underscores the brand's successful crossover and B-segment products, the Pulsar is an unmistakable member of the Nissan family.

The front of the new Pulsar is characterised by a bold grille and bumper arrangement that takes styling cues from the recently launched Qashqai and X-Trail. The familiar Nissan badge is framed by a trademark V-shaped grille, the angles of which extend powerfully up the bonnet.

By emphasising the wheel arch areas, Nissan's design team have created a car with a muscular, confident stance. A dramatic crease line extends from the front wheel arch to the trademark boomerang-shape tail light clusters at the rear, neatly linking both ends of the car. The side of the Pulsar is further defined by a lower crease line that kicks up sharply towards the rear of the car, giving it a neatly tailored and taut waistline.

In keeping with Nissan's design philosophy, the rear of the new Pulsar perfectly combines form with function. The boomerang-shape rear light clusters are neatly integrated into both the rear panels and the tailgate, while a deep cutaway in the rear bumper provides a low loading lip. The powerful, athletic feel created at the front and sides, continues through to the rear with a neat diffuser-style lower bumper element.

All-New Peugeot 308 GT – Performance and Style

THE showroom success enjoyed by the award-winning PEUGEOT 308 looks set to reach even greater heights with the arrival of a dynamic new flagship – the stunning 308 GT.

Available in Hatchback and SW body styles, both models offer assertive new styling, outstanding performance-oriented engines and bespoke chassis modifications to create a lowered ride height. The result is an exceptional on-the-road experience that will delight the most enthusiastic drivers. The enhancements clearly embody PEUGEOT's continued move up-market, highlighted by the 308's recognition as the 2014 European Car of the Year.

The new PEUGEOT 308 GT retains all the elements which have made the 308 range such a huge commercial hit throughout Europe. That includes the striking exterior design, innovative PEUGEOT i-Cockpit cabin, versatile interior and high perceived quality. Remarkable engine efficiency, with high fuel economy and ultra-low emissions, is also part of the 308 GT package.

Assertive sporty styling

The 308 GT's unique design quality is immediately obvious. The iconic PEUGEOT Lion emblem has moved from the bonnet's leading edge to the front grille, with three horizontal blades on either side. For optimum vision in all circumstances, the 308 GT has been fitted with top-of-the-range headlights made up of 62 LEDs.

Exclusive new direction indicators also distinguish the 308 GT from other models. Their dynamic sequential operation, moving from the inside to the outside, emphasises the technological identity of the car. They are placed above the new air scoops which supply the engine with additional cooling.

The 308 GT presents a great aerodynamic and stylistic purity, most notable where the black lacquered door mirrors merge with the tinted windows. Visibly widened by its side sill finishers, the 308 GT sits on 18-inch 'Diamant' wheels, shod with Michelin Pilot Sport 3 tyres. Their fluted spokes and engraved motif are exclusive to the 308 GT.

At the rear, the 308 GT offers a striking and distinctive posture, thanks in part to the lacquered black diffuser and stylish twin exhaust pipes. The GT signature is integrated into the tailgate, as well as the front grille and wheel arches.

The range of colours for the 308 GT includes the new and exclusive 'Magnetic Blue'. Evocative of the blue historically reserved for French competition vehicles, this bold shade suits the car's fluid and dynamic lines, while emphasising its lowered ride height.

An exclusive new ambience is also achieved in the car's cabin, with both the roof lining and upper window pillars finished in anthracite. Red stitching adds a performance air to the upholstery trim and is also found on the dashboard, door panels, gear lever gaiter and floor mats. Aluminium detailing on the pedals, coupled with stainless steel sill finishers in the door apertures, add the finishing touch.

Vital in any sports-oriented car is the correct driving position. It's already ideal in this new model because of the ergonomics of the PEUGEOT i-Cockpit, as seen in every 308. The driver can adjust the height and reach of the compact steering wheel, which is unique to this car thanks to its perforated leather trim and GT badge. The instrument panel bears a new chequered flag motif background and switching on the ignition produces a GT welcome message. To complement this, the large touchscreen displays a new colour scheme dominated by red and black, titled 'Red-line'.

Remarkable dynamic performance

To deliver maximum enjoyment, the 308 GT features enhanced new chassis settings. Ride height has been lowered by 7mm at the front and 10mm at the rear for a more dynamic drive. The revised suspension is mated to a choice of high-performance engines, one petrol and one diesel, that already meet stringent Euro 6 emissions standards.

The four-cylinder 1.6-litre THP 205 Stop&Start petrol engine is specified with a six-speed manual gearbox to make the most of its 285Nm of torque, available between 1,750 and 4,500rpm. This high level of performance is combined with well controlled CO2 emissions and fuel consumption, from just 130g/km and 50.4mpg. Engineers used all of the Brand's expertise to achieve a remarkable power-to-weight ratio of just 5.85kg/hp (171hp per tonne) on this model.

New Audi A6 Range Ready for an Even Cleaner Getaway

ALREADY notable as the first conventionally powered premium executive class car to combine groundbreaking efficiency with a full, unfettered sports specification, the Audi A6 is about to shift up another gear as a new model waits in the wings. Polished by styling revisions, upgraded lighting options, a new infotainment system and new transmissions, the latest A6 Saloon and Avant ranges, which each retain ultra versions offering up to 64mpg, will open for UK ordering during September ahead of first deliveries in late 2014. Their many gains will also be shared by new A6 allroad, S6, S6 Avant and RS 6 Avant models.

"With the new Audi A6, we are writing the next chapter in an excellent success story. It represents innovative technology and Audi's premium claim," says Prof. Dr. Ulrich Hackenberg, Board Member for Technical Development at AUDI AG. "The Audi A6 sets new standards in many technical fields: the lightweight body containing many aluminum components, the powerful and highly efficient engines, the sporty chassis and the advanced assistance and multimedia systems."

The sharp lines and taut surfaces which already create an impression of elegance delivered with meticulous precision in the A6 have been carefully honed as part of the model update. Revisions have been made to the Single-frame grille, the air inlets, the bumpers, the side sills, the rear lights and the tailpipes. One particular exterior highlight is the addition of xenon headlamps as standard for UK A6 SE models, and LED headlights with dynamic 'sweeping' rear indicators for S line versions and above. Matrix LED headlights, incorporating clusters of LED bulbs which can be individually dimmed when sensors detect oncoming or following traffic to automatically divert their beams around obstacles, are optional for all A6 and S6 variants and standard for the RS 6 Avant.

Lighter, brighter S line option

The sinewy style of the exterior is echoed in the car's spacious interior, which in the Avant is combined with a 565-litre load bay that can be expanded to 1,680 litres. Every detail attests to an uncompromising approach to quality, and the elegant colours and carefully selected materials emphasize the premium class ambience. A new Lunar Silver upholstery and headlining colour choice for S line versions, which have until now been available finished exclusively in black, is one advantage offered by the new model, as are subtle detail enhancements, including an upgrade from dual-zone to deluxe four-zone climate control, new gear lever designs and additional chrome detailing.

Technology aficionados will also appreciate the upgraded infotainment options, which include new versions of the top-of-the-line MMI navigation plus and Audi connect elements. Based around an eight-inch retractable colour monitor, MMI navigation plus is available as an alternative to the standard navigation system. It now uses an even more powerful Tegra 30 graphics processor from Audi's partner Nvidia, and includes MMI touch, which enables the driver to scroll and zoom in lists and maps via a touchpad. Audi connect now brings tailored Internet-based services and new media streaming apps to the car via the latest LTE high-speed data transmission standard for ultra-fast 4G click-through and download functionality.

The Audi phone box option is also now available – it enables occupants to connect their mobile phones to the car's antenna for improved reception simply by placing them in the phone box compartment.

East Devon football round-up

Table toppers Honiton too hot for Heavies

SOUTH WEST PENINSULA LEAGUE Division One (east)

MANAGERLESS AXMINSTER TOWN took a 6-0 beating down on the coast at Brixham AFC on Saturday writes Howard Larcombe.

The Tigers, bottom of the league and still on the look out for somebody to fill the shoes vacated by previous boss Gary McAuley, face a tough trek next weekend when they head off to take on unbeaten league leaders Galmpton United.

But things are looking brighter at Manstone Road where SIDMOUTH TOWN came from behind to thrash Exwick Villa 5-1 to move up to fourth in the table.

Ben Howard (2), Mark Pavey (2) and skipper Josh French netted for the Vikings.

Next up for Josh Stunell's side is Saturday's trip to midtablers Alphington.

DEVON & EXETER LEAGUE

BEACON KNIGHTS produced the shock of the day in the East Devon Senior cup writes Collin Goodwin.

The Division 1 side knocked out Premier Division HEAVITREE UNITED 2-1 with a last minute winner from Daniel Powell after they had equalised earlier through Chris Down. Heavitrees Danny Hall scored their only goal.

Cup holders FENITON were too good for WELLINGTON TOWN winning 9-2 thanks to a hat-trick from central defender Mark Simic. Paul Dowling also scored twice.

THORVERTON were taken to penalties at BICKLEIGH after drawing their tie 2-2.

The Thors went on to win the spotkicks 4-3 and had much to thanks keeper Tom Vickery who saved two pens in the shoot out and another in the main game.

Lee Radford pen and Lawrence Khoo scored for Thorverton in regular play.

WESTEXE ROVERS beat ALPHINGTON 3-1 on penalties after their tie ended 2-2. Paul Hardy and Jordan Whitfield scored Alphingtons normal play goals, and Sam Washbourn converted their only penalty.

For Westexe the three penalty scorers were Dom and Ashely Perrott and Lee Dixon, and keeper Scott Hosea was their saviour with two great saves.

EXWICK VILLA produced a surprise 3-0 win to knock out Premier Division BEER ALBION, and HATHERLEIGH TOWN also won 3-0 at EAST BUDLEIGH to clinch their place in round 2.

SIDBURY UNITED beat CLYST VALLEY 5-1 after extra time with Dan McCann getting a hat-trick. Connor Hannaford and Adam Connett also scored.

ELMORE won their tie at WITHERIDGE 2-0 on Friday evening under lights.

Premier Division BUDLEIGH SALTERTON went under 16-0 at home to TOPSHAM TOWN and that means they have now conceded over 30 goals in their last two matches.

The Robins who are having to field a side mainly of 16 and 17 year olds tried their hardest to deny Topsham, restricting their visitors to a 5-0 interval lead, but after that it was men against boys.

For Topsham Alex Gibbons netted five with Jordan Bastin 3, Matt Finn 2 and Ashley Mcdermid 2 leading the scoring.

TIVERTON TOWN regained top spot in Premier after their emphatic 5-0 victory at NEWTOWN, but there was some relief for WILLAND ROVERS despite their 4-3 defeat at home to CHARD TOWN. It was the first goals Willand have scored this season.

HONITON TOWN are the new leaders in Division One after their 4-0 victory at HEAVITREE UNITED, but HEMYOCKS great start to the season in Division Two came undone at COLYTON where they lost 1-0.

In the same division the UNIVERSITY began their season with an 8-0 victory at TOPSHAM, while DAWLISH UNITED and NEWTOWN shared 1-1 draw.

In Division Three EXMOUTH TOWN edged HENRY'S CRONIES 1-0 thanks to a Sean Roach goal, and defeat was a first ever for the Exeter side in the league.

Matt Anderson slammed five goals for ST

MARTINS in their 7-0 annihilation of AWLISCOMBE in the Bill Slee cup.

AXMOUTH UTD registered their first win of the season with a 4-3 win over visiting Division 2 side CULM UNITED in a thrilling Bill Slee Cup tie.

Culm took the lead with the last kick of the first-half and struck again soon after the break.

But the Axes stormed back to edge ahead with goals from Matt Ellis, Asa Sandman and Charlie Clarke with 12 minutes to go.

Culm velled at 3-3 but there was still time for ex-Seaton Town man Jacob Hayes to get the winner - his first for the club.

MORCHARD BISHOP came from a goal down to shock CHAGFORD 3-1. Robbie Miller put the Moormen ahead before two goal Ryan Piper and Liam Scholfield turned the tie over.

TIPTON ST JOHN gave away ground advantage to CLYST VALLEY but still won 2-0 with Jake Allen getting both goals.

LYME REGIS made sure their 146 mile round trip to play at HALWILL proved lucrative as they beat the home team 6-0.

Jack Durrant (2), Harvey Brimicombe (2), Ritchie Durrant and Mark Bailey scored for the Seasideers who were away and clear at 3-0 as early as the 15th minute.

UPOTTERY scored double figures in their tie against AXMINSTER TOWN, and SIDMOUTH TOWN hit a dozen in their clash with nearby NEWTON POPPLEFORD.

New teams CENTRAL won their Geary Cup clash at BICKLEIGH 3-1 with Ross Clotworthy scoring twice, as did TIVVY PARK RANGERS who were 3-1 winners at LYMPSTONE. Chri Tolly 2 and Liam Chard-Maple scored for Tivvy.

WINCHESTER also cantered through to the second round with an entertaining 7-4 win against ALPHINGTON, but MORETONHAMPSTEAD went down 3-0 at ST MARTINS.

◆ SEATON TOWN under 9s kicked off their season on Saturday, with a narrow 2-1 defeat against Millway Rise.

Seaton's team work was exceptional and their attacking play, with quick and incisive passing, centring around the excellent Henry Matthews, crafted out numerous opportunities, but Leo Gribble and George Gait found the Millway keeper in fine form.

Aaron Hale then saw his rising drive come back off the bar. Max Nevell and Kieran Jaycock were outstanding in defence.

AXE CLIFF with Helen Kenworthy

ON Friday, September 5th The Axe Cliff Ladies held their Open, with teams entered from Devon, Dorset and Somerset. The format was a bow maker (team of three 2 scores to count).

First prize went to Sue Kelson & Rosemary Shepherd/Sue Fossett from Bridport and West Dorset, in 2nd Rosemary Bickham & Hanna Jacobsen & Jenny Modica from Lyme Regis and Yeovil, 3rd Jen Jones & Hazel Carmichael & Gill MacGrath from Wells, 4th (on back 9) Helen Kenworthy & Sheila Thompson & Yvonne Anning from Axe Cliff and Sidmouth, 5th Helen Gaudi & Pauline Willis & Joyce Henderson from Axe Cliff and Royal Mid Surrey.

In a field of 31 Seniors scoring in the recent Stableford was very good.

Two players amassed 38 points with John White (21) winning the top prize on countback from Rob Grove (16) who had to settle for second place.

Third was Tony Strong (9) with 36 points. Iain Bain got the only two of the day at the 11th.

The Men recently played for The Tradesmen's Cup which is foursomes format.

In 1st spot were Paul Clode & Anthony Hellier, 2nd Nigel Pritchard & Stuart Mackie. There were 2's for Paul Clode and Anthony Hellier.

On Wednesday the Ladies played in 'Barbara's Birthday Bash' which was a fun format.

Result; 1st Glenda Board, Helen Gaudi & Lesley Crawford, 2nd Sandra Walker, Jo Donnal & Bee Sammons all the Ladies would like to thank Barbara for her day and providing lunch and prizes.

The August Medal for the Seniors last Friday was poorly supported due to holidays and Opens taking place on neighbouring courses.

In tricky conditions two players returned scores of 74 nett and the winner on countback was Phil Wilkins (15) with Mick Tomes (17) in second place.

Third, with a nett 79 was Sid Pember (20). On Saturday we had our Combination Open which is for teams of Mens, Ladies or Mixed.

There were various prizes but the main one was for the team event, result; 1st Ladies. Sandra Walker, Barbara Cummings & Penny Lyne. 1st Mixed; Peter Knighting, Margaret Kenchington & Tony Stone. 1st Mens; Paul Jepp, Paul Bowler & Terry Thorn (all from Dawlish Warren GC).

On Sunday the Men played for the Carnival Cup.

HONITON with Andy Wagner
August Medal

WE were back in the thick of it after various Opens and fun games with the August Medal.

Maybe it was because of people's holidays or the changeable weather but the field was quite small.

The standard of play was still very high with Mark Tierney leading the field in Division One with a very neat nett 68. He was closely followed by Ed Reece and Darren England both on nett 69.

The star turn this week though was Andy Wall in Division Two with a sparkling nett 67. He in turn was followed by Buzz Harris and Julian Netherway who both notched nett 72.

Tuesday Mixed

When the Green Staff have work week the members either have to putt on temporary greens or on the main greens which have been heavily treated.

However, it is only a week and the Tuesday Mixed competition takes this into account and therefore organises the format of a Texas Scramble.

Twenty eight members played in teams of four and the winners with a Nett score of 57.7 were Janet and David Hughes and Iain and Joyce Guy.

In 2nd place were Dot Grove, Catherine Doherty, Cyril Dann and Club President Alec Gosling with Nett 58.1.

Organisers for this month Janet and David Hughes presented the prizes and then thanked the bar and catering staff.

Ladies Section

With works week well underway, and some temporary greens in play, Honiton ladies' format on Wednesday was a 3BB8 Stableford with 2two scores to count.

It was wet underfoot and for a time we played hide and seek with the flag in some low cloud and mist, but this didn't put off our winning team of Elizabeth Wood, Liz Rogers and Brenda Hyde who romped home with 76 stableford points.

In 2nd place were Joan Smith, Carol Cole and Betty Weeden with 73 points, and 3rd were Diana Gee, Chris Luttman and Julie Eyles with 72 points.

Seniors Section

Every golfer believes they need perfect greens to practice the art of putting.

This week's Seniors Stableford competition was played as the greens were recovering from their annual hollow time and it might have been thought putting would be difficult, not a bit of to as eight players recorded a "two" and Pat Purtell a hole in one on the second.

Drinks all round from Pat were some consolation for the ball prize reduced to four per player and Pat will have no excuse for bad timekeeping as he will receive a watch courtesy of the "How did I do" system.

The prize winners of the competition were in Division One, Angus Falconer 40 points, Mike Kent 39, John Frith 38, Chris Street 37 and David Morgan 37.

In Division Two John Pawley came out on top with 41 points followed by Mike Jones 40, John Ward 37, Brian Morrison 37 and Bob Milton 35.

◆ The time was right for a SIDBURY golfer when he scored a hole-in-one during a recent club competition to be rewarded with a limited-edition BOSS watch as recognition for the achievement.

Luke Sheppard, 37, scored his ace on the 112-yard, par-three fourth at Sidmouth GC, and the seven-handicapper was rewarded with membership of the exclusive BOSS Watches H1 Club and a specially-commissioned, commemorative timepiece.

running round-up

Ideal running conditions

SATURDAY morning brought the Roadford Lake Team Triathlon which consisted of a 1500 metre swim, 40km Bike Ride and 10km Multi-Terrain run.

Local sports clubs teamed up to enter a men and ladies team for the event.

The ladies Team (Thunderbirds) consisted of Anne Ephraums, Sally Hutter and Rae Owen.

Anne had a fantastic swim coming out of the lake in 3rd position overall and then the task off the bike ride. Sally suffered with her chain coming off whilst setting off.

But calmly put the chain back on, before blasting around a two-lap course around the lake to hand over to Rae in 3rd position for the 10km Run.

Rae stormed around the course despite some slippery off road sections to bring the team home arm's aloft in 3rd Position for the Ladies event.

The men's team (The Snooty Foxes) consisted of Jim Ephraums, Mike Rose and Kevin Hawker. Jim followed his wife Anne out of the lake after a great swim and a quick dash up the hill to hand over to Mike Rose for the Bike Ride. Mike stormed around, to put the team in 2nd Place overtaking several teams over the two laps and also recorded the 2nd fastest ride off the day.

Mike handed over to local runner Kevin Hawker who held 2nd Place with the added bonus of recording the fastest time of the day for the 10km run.

The team finished a fantastic 2nd only beaten by the Great Britain Development Team who average age was 19 with the Snooty Foxes average age being 51!

With three races to go Steve MacLure leads the rankings with 115 points followed by Richard Hale 111, Eleanor Wood and Amie Sibley 99 and Ian Apps 91.

It was a very warm morning for the Cotleigh Canter 10K or 5K races.

The conditions led to both the ladies and mens course records being broken in the 10K.

AVR's Jake Smith won in 33:21 and AVR's Amy Greenhalgh was the first lady 11th overall in 40:20. Matt Clist ran well to finish 2nd, 34:40, while Eleanor Wood was 1st lady over 55, 20th overall in 44:38 one place ahead of Tony Smith 45:34, Keith Agland was 30th, 49:14 and Sue Venn 38th, 57:07.

Young Mia Bartlett ran very well in the 3K Fun Run finishing 7th in 14:09.

Seventy seven runners lined up for the start of the Somerset Levells and Moors Marathon.

Sole AVR representative was Steve Reynolds who was going well until about 12 miles when the cycle legs started to take their toll. He thought he was seeing things at 24 miles when he saw an AVR vest up ahead. It was Gavin Warren who was competing in the Half Marathon which started two hours after the Marathon.

The pair crossed the line together. Reynolds finished 43rd in 4:37:36 with Gavin finishing the Half in 18th spot taking 2:37.

On Sunday Luke Reed travelled to the Cotswolds water park to take part in a Sprint Triathlon.

He completed the 750m lake swim in 12:37. Onto a very fast 12 mile bike course and Luke clocked a pretty good time of 31:19 averaging 22mph, then onto a multi terrain 5k run and Luke managed 18:03 and the 9th best time of the day. This gave him an overall time of 1:03:50, 2nd in his age group and 18th overall.

Luke is now making his final preparations for the Challenge UK Half Ironman this coming Sunday in Weymouth.

Also on Sunday Diane and Graham ran the Treggy 7, a fast seven-mile road race.

The runners set off from Launceston Town Square. The route was fairly flatish except for a one-mile steep ascent up to the village of Tregadillett before finishing in the grounds of Launceston Castle.

Graham was pleased to finish 82nd taking the over 65 male vet prize in 50:02. Diane also had a very good run coming in 312th in 1:11:42.

tetathlete

Second place in nationals

LOCAL tetraathlete Mollie Hansford, 17, from Lyme Regis has capped a brilliant season by finishing in second place in the Open class at the National Tetraathlon Championships in Yorkshire recently. Her team, Cotley, also finished as runners up amid very strong competition.

Mollie secured a place in the GB team earlier this summer to travel to Western Australia for a Five Nation International. On her return she competed at the UK Nationals in Melton Mowbray, Leicestershire.

Despite a below average shoot Mollie fought back with a PB in the swim, 3rd fastest run and a fast clear Cross country round on her horse The Beeker to finish in 5th place individually with a win for the South West team.

The National Championships followed a week later in the spectacular setting of Bishop Burton College. Mollie produced a confident shoot and strong swim to be in 9th place overnight.

A spectacular PB in the 1500m run put her up to 4th. The ride phase was conducted over the biggest course Mollie had tackled but her horse did not disappoint and they produced one of only 16 clear rounds within the time to score maximum points.

This was all the more impressive as Mollie's horse had his right eye removed in May following a long standing eye condition.

Seaton triple triumphant!

SEATON with Linda Stone

ON Saturday Maria Johnson (lead), Pat Whitworth (number 2) and Di Morley (skip) travelled to Newton Abbott to contest the final of the Devon Benevolent Triples against a team from South Molton.

After a slow start, 5-1 down after six ends, the Seaton triple, gradually came back at the opposition. They went in to the last end leading by eight shots, setting the South Molton team the daunting task of needing a hot-shot of nine to win. Dropping just two shots on the final end they eventually won by 17 shots to 11 to take the title in style.

Sunday saw Seaton travelling to SOUTH PETHERTON, where they contested the final of the Two Counties League.

It had been a nail-biting wait while Ottery St Mary played their final fixture against Culm Vale to see if Seaton had actually come top of the Devon Section. It wasn't until Thursday that the place in the final was confirmed.

With much excitement and haste a team was selected and informed of the situation.

On a near perfect afternoon the four rinks took up the challenge. It was really a game of two halves, South Petherton taking an early lead, but the Seaton players gradually fought back.

Finally, with three rinks finished and all won by Seaton, they were holding the game by just four shots.

The last rink to finish needed to prevent South Petherton scoring four or more shots for the match.

With Seaton hold one shot the South Petherton Skip had the last bowl of the last end to play. All the spectators from Seaton held their breath as his delivery reached the head.

Seaton had held on to the one shot and had won overall by five shots.
